

and the sanguinary execution of all the prisoners not under age.

More than one hundred individuals have been thus executed in cold blood, while the prisons of Seville, Cadiz, Malaga and other great towns, are stuffed with prisoners arrested for their supposed connection with the events of the past three weeks. One of the most notable of these is the late Charge d'Affaires of Spain in Chili, Don Eduardo Asquerino, now the young and talented editor of La America, a periodical which he has just established, and which is the most respectable in Madrid to a literary point of view. He was upon a visit to Seville on business connected with this publication, when he was suddenly followed by an order from the Cabinet for his imprisonment. He is fully convinced that there is no just cause or reason for this step, as he has kept entirely aloof from politics since his return from abroad, and La America is not a political paper, nor has any reason been assigned for the arrest.

But, doubtless, it is as well grounded as a majority of his countrymen. Nothing but the casual coincidence of his journey to Seville, which was alleged as a motive for the arrest, and the fact that he was a Spaniard, for that kind of vague suspicion, on the part of the Spanish Government, which strikes right and left. Nearly a thousand persons have also been arrested in Madrid during the week past, and are now held in prison. The police say that they are taking up the prisoners or people who exercise no honest craft or means of getting a living; but, under this denomination, one gentleman, the managing editor of one of the Madrid daily journals, and a man who works at his desk from 9 o'clock in the morning till 12 o'clock at night, every day except Sundays, has been suddenly torn from his family and his business, and locked up in the Saladero, the common prison. I have also heard of three others who are actually paid upward of $150 each, for their real estate, who have been served in like manner.

But I have reason to believe that, though the Government is run down by force of arms the ill-conceived and unfortunate rising in Andalusia, in looking up the supposed great conspiracy with which it was connected, it is as usual of the sort.

It has been my fortune to receive communications direct from a person who knew Caro personally, and who assures me that he was a Captain in the army of Don Carlos.

I am also told by one who knew the personal history of Lallana, the second in command, that he, too, was a Carlist; and this information was furnished in reference to each, without either of my informants knowing what was said about the other. This coming as it does in addition to my previous intelligence about the movements of the Carlist chiefs, and their evident hope of being again able to strike a blow for their cause in the Peninsula this summer, has led me to the conclusion that the recent attempt in Andalusia was in fact a Carlist plot in disguise. They spread the flag of Socialism to catch the support of the populace, and the leaders of the movement were Carlists. They meant, perhaps, to draw the attention of the Government and the army to the mountains of Andalusia, when in fact the great blow was to have been struck in another quarter. Whatever the motive, this barbarous butchery of prisoners is at last stayed.

Don Eduardo Asquerino, late Charge d'Affaires in Chili, and editor of the America, has been set at liberty, his only crime having been found to be that he was going to Seville on his own business when he was stopped by some of the revolted party, as were other passengers, and that afterward he proceeded on his way to Seville. Other prisoners have also been released at Madrid.

The Captain-General of Seville was instantly replaced by the Government on learning that a band of 100 rebels had been allowed to form itself in his district. Many military officers have also been deprived of their commands. Among these, I am sorry to say, is Colonel Tassara, the gallant brother of Sr. Tassara, now Minister of Spain at Washington. It appears that Colonel Tassara has given a good cause for this measure, and the Government has taken into account, as it ought, the great services of this family, which counts among its members men so distinguished as the actual Spanish representative in Washington.

The Pizarro war-steamer has sailed from Cadiz with sealed orders. Her destination for Cuba, however, is hardly doubtful.

The Spanish Government organ, the Hojas Autograficas, has thought proper to contradict the report of The New-York Herald about an understanding between the ex-Dictator, Santa Anna, and the Spanish Government concerning the affairs of Mexico, in the following explicit manner:

"With reference to intelligence from New-York, there has been circulated in the Paraiso, in Paris, and in other principal ports of Barcelona and Santander, the strange report that the Spanish Government had signed a convention with General Santa Anna by which the latter would be aided by the Government of Madrid to recover his power in Mexico. This report is entirely untrue, and has no other foundation than that it is an invention of the friends of Comfort in the American Press."

It is entirely false that the Government of Spain has concluded a treaty or convention of any description with General Santa Anna to carry war into Mexico.

The Cortes were dismissed by the Government on the 10th inst. They have been the willing and active coadjutors of the Government, and have obtained a large sanction to their otherwise wholly arbitrary and dictatorial measures since October last. They have approved the Budget of upward of $30,000,000 without discussion, approved the infamous Mires loan of $15,000,000, voted the gag law for the Press, voted the conscription of 50,000 men for the army, re-established a hereditary Senate in fact and the laws of entailment, and put full power in the hands of the Cabinet to do what it pleased with the country.

An extraordinary decline from the recent high prices of Wheat in Spain is reported.

The Captain-General and the Civil Governor of the province of Seville were to be brought before a council of war on account of the late troubles.

The execution of insurgents had been stopped by the Government.

The London Times publishes a dispatch from Paris dated the 23d, stating that the Spanish Government after some hesitation has accepted the offer of mediation in the Mexican question made by Lord Howden and the Marquis de Turgot in the name of the English and French Governments.

The season of the Cortes had been closed. The Concordat was passed by large majorities in both houses, but so altered from its original spirit that it was thought the Pope would not consent to receive it.

Italy.

It is said that a Convention is to be signed between the Governments of the Italian States, with the exception of the Kingdom of Sicily, to guarantee each other against revolutionary attacks.

Prussia.

Reliable accounts from Berlin state that the reply of Prussia to the late Danish note has been written, and contains a promise to remain passive until after the meeting of the States of Holstein. The answer of Austria is said to be to the same effect.

The proposition of Prussia to augment by 20 per cent, the duty on beet-root sugar is said to have every chance of being adopted by the Zollverein.

Austria.

It is said that the endeavor to effect a reconciliation between Austria and Russia are not likely to prove successful.

Turkey.

It is stated that a schism exists among the Commissioners on the matter of the Principality. Those of England, Austria and Turkey form the minority.

The Ionian Islands.

In the Chamber of Deputies, a Representative recently, a statement having been made that a movement was on foot to make Corfu a British Colony, an animated debate took place in denunciation of such a scheme, and a strong demonstration was made in favor of a union with Greece.

INDIA.

THE INDIAN MUTINIES—AN ESCAPE FROM DELHI.

The following most interesting and affecting letter was written to his sister by a boy of 19, who happily succeeded in effecting his escape from among the mutineers:

"Who would have thought when I last wrote to you all the awful circumstances under which I was again to put pen to paper. I have been by the way of the mutiny, my brother, has been spared from the fearful massacre that has taken place at Delhi, and though he is a complete beggar, yet, thank God, he is still alive and well. Oh, my own dearest sister, the escape I have had has been most miraculous—in fact, I can hardly realize it at this time. I was back here upon it, it is scarcely to be believed, yet still here I am and no mistake about it; and, as they say it is a slight change of a letter reaching Bombay in time for this mail, I am writing to you. There is only one other officer of my unfortunate regiment out of those who were with it at the time of the mutiny who was able to get to the place, and he, my fellow, is in hospital with a musket-ball through his thigh—Osborn, our adjutant; but I am glad to say there were three others on leave for a month's shooting in the jungles at the time of the outbreak, and who have consequently escaped—among them my chum Wastley. You know I myself had been back here from Cawnpore five days when this awful business took place. I have been here now since the 19th of last month, and have not had a single line from my poor mother. All the dawks, you know, are out by the insurgents, and though I have written to her several times, yet for some time have been unable to get my letters through. I was able, however, to telegraph to her on the 20th, saying I had arrived here safe and well, and got a reply from my father telling what relief I had given them, but since then the wire has been destroyed and there has been no communication at all with Cawnpore. God grant that they are all well, and will have reason to suppose that the troops there are quiet."

"There were three native corps at Delhi, beside a battery of six guns, and not a single European soldier. It was about 10 o'clock on the morning of the 11th that we first heard of some mutiny. The 11th Cavalry, which was in the city, were ordered to cut them up. Of course this time we had not a doubt as to their loyalty. Well, the whole regiment, except my company, No. 1, and our major's, the Grenadiers (who were ordered to wait for two days, distant about two weeks, at the Cashmere gate, which was the main entrance to the city), and the 11th Cavalry, which was in the city, were ordered to cut them up.
